

SIDE EVENT COP22

Human Mobility and Climate change Displacement, Migration, Planned Relocation

10 November 2016
Room Mediterranean
13:15—14:45

© UNHCR/Saiful Huq Omi

COP21 mandated the establishment of a Task Force to develop recommendations “to avert, minimize and address displacement related to the adverse effects of climate change”. This ONE UN side event will take stock of the progress in relation to human mobility under the UNFCCC and discuss concrete ways forwards.

Moderator: UNFCCC, Koko Warner

Marine Franck. Protection challenges and recommendations for addressing displacement

Dina Ionesco. Follow up to WIM/IOM Technical Meeting on Human Mobility

Benjamin Schachter. Exploring rights-based approaches to climate displacement

Joni Pegram/Robert Oakes. Children on the Move and climate change

Titilia Somica. Fiji’s planned relocation as adaptation: the case of the Vunidogoloa community

Martin Frick. Agricultural and rural dimensions of climate change and migration

Atle Solberg. UNFCCC and the Nansen Initiative Protection Agenda

Mo Hassan. The Gathering Storm- climate change and displacement in Ethiopia

Organizer:

In partnership with:

