The International Organization for Migration (IOM), the UN Migration agency, is leading inter-governmental organization in the field of migration and will leverage its close relationships with IGAD Member States and other governmental, intergovernmental and non-governmental partners to advance the understanding of migration challenges in the IGAD region and improve the economic development of migrants through innovation and policy coherence that addresses the links between migration, environment and climate change.

The International Labour Organization (ILO) is the UN specialized agency for the world of work. Its unique tripartite structure, bringing together governments, employers' organizations, and workers' organizations, provides it with the legitimacy and participatory mechanisms needed to advance decent work. The ILO has both the normative framework and the technical expertise to promote rights at work, encourage decent employment opportunities, enhance social protection and strengthen dialogue on work-related issues, all necessary to enhancing the development benefits of labour migration in the IGAD region.

The Platform on Disaster Displacement (PDD) is a State-led initiative working towards better protection for people displaced across borders in the context of disasters and climate change. The Platform works by promoting measures to help people stay in their homes, help people move out of harm's way and to better protect those forced to leave their homes. Its Secretariat is hosted by UNOPS. IGAD being a strong partner of the Nansen Initiative since the Regional Consultation on Disaster, Climate Change and cross-border displacement in the Greater Horn of Africa in 2014, and IGAD as PDD Advisory Committee Member.

The United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), the UN Refugee Agency, is an organization dedicated to saving lives, protecting human rights and building a better future for refugees, forcibly displaced communities and stateless people. UNHCR has been working to deliver protection and durable solutions to persons of concern in the IGAD region for decades. UNHCR works closely with IGAD on political and humanitarian issues in the region and collaborate increasingly on numerous durable solutions aspects; most recently at the first Global Refugee Forum on the Global Compact for Refugees,

The Intergovernmental Authority on Development (IGAD) is one of the eight Regional Economic Communities of the African Union with the vision to achieve peace and sustainable development in the region. IGAD comprises of the Member States of Djibouti, Eritrea (suspended), Ethiopia, Kenya, Somalia, South Sudan, Sudan and Uganda. IGAD's Climate Prediction and Applications Center (ICPAC), a specialized institution by IGAD, is a Climate Center accredited by the World Meteorological Organization that provides Climate Services to 11 East African Countries. Their services aim at creating resilience in a region deeply affected by climate change and extreme weather.
